Also in 2018, Louisa oversaw the production of Reporting Animal Cruelty, a manual created for veterinarians to use when dealing with cases of animal cruelty. The Foundation also established two animal well-being initiatives for the state of Oklahoma, aimed to make Oklahoma “the safest and most humane place to be an animal by 2032” and to increase Oklahoma’s cat and dog “live release” rate to 90 percent by 2025; and
